Town Mayor Attends Special Armed Forces Service

The Mayor of Hailsham, Councillor Nigel Coltman, joined local councillors, forces veterans, cadets and residents at a special service held on Sunday [29 June] to support Armed Forces Day 2015.

The civic service, organised by the Hailsham Branch of the Royal British Legion, was conducted at the Hailsham War Memorial, at which prayers of thanks were given for the contribution made by members of the Armed Forces, past and in the present, in serving the country.

Town Mayor Councillor Coltman said: "It was an honour to attend this service on behalf of the Town Council and local residents to commemorate the heroics of so many men and women who make up the Armed Forces community including veterans, serving troops and their families and new recruits."

"It's wonderful that so many people turn out each year to celebrate Armed Forces Week and show their support."
