FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Mayor to Attend Hailsham Choral Seasonal Celebration

10 December 2019

The Mayor of Hailsham will be getting into the Christmas spirit when he joins in the celebrations of the Hailsham Choral Society's annual Christmas Carol Concert.

Mayor Councillor Paul Holbrook will be attending the popular concert, this year titled 'A Night of Carols', which takes place at Hailsham Parish Church on Thursday 19th December from 7.30pm.

The concert will incorporate a mixture of old and new carols with some audience participation and this year, the Society's retiring collection will be in aid of Fegans, a charity working locally to provide mental health support for children and families.

Councillor Holbrook encourages people to go along and enjoy the festive spirit: "Christmas is a very special time of year and Hailsham Choral Society's annual concert is always popular and well received. They have provided a fantastic service to the local community and I'm delighted to be attending this special performance."

"The concert promises to be a great night's entertainment and with some outstanding musical talent from the accomplished choir singers and musicians, the line up is second to none and guaranteed to delight the entire family."

Admission is priced at £12 per person (£6 for under 16s). Tickets are available from The Camera Centre in Hailsham and via wegottickets.com, subject to availability. They will also be available on the door.

Further information about the concert can be found via the Hailsham Choral Society website: www.hailshamchoral.org.
